

Community Coaching with Inspiring Communities

What you need to know

About Community Coaching

Community-led development (CLD) is hard and often messy. There are no rulebooks or recipes to follow.

Community Coaching with an Inspiring Communities team member aims to give you the space to reflect on and unpack your community-led practice. It's a support process to help you reflect on and understand what's working and what's not and to figure out why and what you might do next.

We understand that each community-led context is different. You set the agenda for what you'd like to work on over 4, one hour sessions during the year, with the focus and pace determined by you.

We will match you with an experienced Inspiring Communities Community Coach who will:

- Help you apply and reflect on CLD principles in your work
- Support your focus on the CLD skills and practices you'd most like to work on

- Link you to helpful tools and resources to enhance your practice
- Offer ideas and tactics around the 'tricky' stuff
- Enable you to reflect on changes, impacts and learning in real time

If you have a preference for a specific Inspiring Coach from our coaching team you'd like to work with, please let us know and we'll do our best to match you up.
