

Making Sense of Community-led Change

Community-led Development (CLD) and Developmental Evaluation (DE) are recognised as key approaches for achieving positive local change and showing how smaller actions can generate larger ripple effect. Demonstrating effective progress and outcomes can be challenging in dynamic, adaptive environments, but it's not impossible!

We've designed a session that brings both CLD and DE together in ways that are practical, proven and interactive. We'll share a range of key frameworks and tools, and there will be plenty of opportunities to apply these directly into your situations, plans and projects.

You'll be learning from our great workshop facilitators and from others in the room too so, bring your ideas, projects and colleagues!

The workshop is for those working in community-led projects as well as funders, evaluators and evaluation commissioners wanting to learn more about authentically demonstrating meaning and value from community-led.

WHEN: 3-4 August 2021

VENUE: Western Springs Community Garden Hall, 956 Great North Road, Western Springs, Auckland

TIME: Monday & Tuesday (9.30am – 4.00pm)

COST: $225 +GST (not for profit organisations) / $625+GST (central and local government, business, community funders)

REGISTER: www.inspiringcommunities.org.nz/makingsenseofcommunityledchange

This workshop will help you:

- Understand how DE and CLD principles and ways of working fit together
- Apply DE and CLD principles and values to your own community-based projects and contexts
- Understand why and how to use different kinds of evidence to understand and tell your story
- Use and apply some DE tools e.g. framing or reviewing your evaluation plan
- Understand what you can do yourselves and when specialist support might be required

Our facilitators:

Kate has over 20 years' experience in helping organisations develop evaluation systems and frameworks, evaluating policies and programmes, building evaluation capacity, training and facilitation.

Denise is an Auckland-based social researcher, evaluator, facilitator, trainer and project manager. She works in health, social justice, community-led development, urban sustainability and resilience, planning and government at all levels. With international experience she's well versed in exploring the influence of CLD approaches and wider systems change.

Thank you to the Todd Foundation for their funding contribution and ongoing support of our mahi.
