

Collaborative Governance & Leadership

Virtual workshop + group coaching

Co-hosted by:

Mā mua ka kite a muri, mā muri ka ora a mua

Those who lead give sight to those who follow, those who follow give life to those who lead

Governing collaborative efforts is challenging! It's not business as usual – it requires new shared ways of engaging, organising, leading and decision making.

This workshop will dive into both the governance and leadership components needed to support collaborative processes and collective intents, using best practice from Collective Impact and Community-led Development approaches.

WHEN: Wednesday 22nd September 9am - 12.30 pm

Plus a follow-on group coaching session

WHERE: Online via zoom (link will be sent to you prior)

COST: $179 plus GST

REGISTER: www.bit.ly/CollabGovLeadershipWorkshop

This workshop will help you:

- Explore key theories and approaches related to collaborative governance
- Understand the kinds of relationships, processes, practices, structures and decision making processes that best enable collective intents
- Access tools and resources that support and sustain collaborative efforts from idea to impact
- Navigate some of the challenges typically associated with making collaboration stick

This workshop is for people working in a variety of collaborative contexts – from collective impact, to enabling community-led visions, to building alliances on sector, system or policy issues, to partnering on service or programme delivery - and lots more in between!

This workshop will be led by:

Liz Weaver

Liz Weaver is the Co-CEO of Tamarack Institute, leading the Tamarack Learning Centre. The Tamarack Learning Centre has a focus on advancing community change efforts through five strategic practices including collective impact, collaborative leadership, community engagement, community innovation and evaluating community impact. Liz is well-known for her thought leadership on collective impact and is the author of several popular and academic papers on the topic. She is a co-catalyst partner with the Collective Impact Forum.

Supported by:

Megan Courtney

Megan is a systems-thinker and passionate about improving community outcomes. She spent 15 years working in local government facilitating and brokering cross sector partnerships to do just this. Megan has also created partnering resources for others wanting to build their practice. Megan has also been on a range of government and sector advisory panels. She's a founding member of Inspiring Communities, currently coordinating the Team's multifaceted activities!
