Te Whakawhanake ā-Hapori

Weaving our connections and contributions

Helpful info

David and Pam put some of their thinking down on paper. If you haven't yet read it – it is worth taking the time

And Walk Together is all about creating culturally responsive systemic change.

Courageous Conversations in Community Thursday 19th May, 9:30-11am

Community building can be dynamic, messy, complex and sometimes we need to hold challenging conversations that take some courage.

Cissy Rock will guide us through some strategies and skills for dealing with the difficult talking in a sensitive, generous and relationship building way.

Child Rich Communities

The goal of the Child Rich Communities (CRC) project is to grow a network of people and projects working in community-led ways to improve the wellbeing of tamariki, rangatahi, whānau and communities across Aotearoa, hosted by Inspiring Communities.

Locally-led Matters

Harnessing the power of collaborative local leadership

Alongside iwi, both local and central government are key partners in locally-led change. So too are local citizens and communities.

The current Local Governance Reform process provides an opportunity to think beyond current Council structures and mechanics. It's an invitation to explore new roles and opportunities for joining up to make the most of everyone's contributions to their local place.
